Dial 110 Report System

Fukuoka Prefectural Police

Dial 110 is used for an emergency report to police. All the Dial 110 calls in Fukuoka prefecture are to be received in this Communication Command Center, the contents of which are transmitted to patrol cars, police stations and so on by radio. In the case of purse snatching, for example, prompt reporting to the police is necessary for catching suspects and recovering articles, so do not hesitate to call us.

Dial 110 Report System was born in Fukuoka Prefecture

In March 1948, a new police system was established consisting of National Local Police and Self Government Police. On October 1, 1948, Dial 110 Report System was born in the 8 biggest cities: Tokyo, Osaka, Kyoto, Yokohama, Kawasaki, Nagoya, Kobe and Fukuoka. But the dial numbers vary:

In Tokyo :	110
In Osaka, Kyoto and Kobe :	1110
In Nagoya :	118

Emergency call 110 was introduced in Fukuoka City, and calls were received in each police station in Fukuoka City, but at that time, as there was no radio, transmitting to police stations was arranged by telephone.

Six key points for calling 110

The officer who answers will ask you the following questions. Please answer clearly and calmly:

Point 1 Are you reporting a crime or an accident?
For example, say "robbery," "fight," or "traffic accident."

Point 2 When did it happens?
For example, say "just now" or "5 minutes ago."

Point 3 Where did it happen?
Give the full address if you know it, like "1-2-3 ○○○○ Street, ○○○○ Ward, Fukuoka."
If you do not know the address, describe the landmarks like the nearest bus stop or intersection.

Point 4 Who is the perpetrator
Describe things like "the number of criminals, what they were wearing, which direction they fled, license plate number of vehicle," and any other details.

Point 5 What is the current situation?
For example, say if anyone is hurt and how the victim is doing.

Point 6 Who are you?
Give your name, address, phone number, and other details.
